Bank Return is Favorable.

The bank return was much more favorable than that of last week, showing that the loss in cash by the banks in Cent. L. L. during the week was only $656,000, which, with a decrease in loans of $5,666,000, resulted in an increase of $2,007,375 in the bank surplus. $2,007,375 in the bank surplus.

The was not in a panic whole work was not in a panic whole work was not in a panic whole work was not in a panic was not i the market, as a whole, was not. Why men in good health and apparently sane Washington Railway and Electric com... should give way to hysteria is a question Washington Railway and Electric pfd.. far removed from the ordinary subjects Washington Gas...... of Wall street discussion, but that many of them did so was testified to by several Chesapeake and Potomac Telephon reputable brokers.

There were, of course, victims of the Lanston Monotype. decline who could not help themselves, for their margins had become attenuated Greene Cananca. and they were unable to supply more. With these, liquidation was a necessity. American But there were causes, and many of City them in which men who owned stocks of Columbia were more than ample to eatisfy their brokers, but who insisted, against the Metropolitan brokers, but who insisted, against dearnest advice of the latter, in throwing dearnest advice of the latter, in throwing over their lines and adding to the rapidity over their lines and adding to the rapidity over their lines and adding to the rapidity of the latter o over their lines and adding to the rapidity and extent of the market's downward course. The only panic in the street was Washington Exchange Bank... in the minds of those individuals, and it American Security and Trust was a pitiful exhibit, Union Pacific broke on stop orders. This was the way the traders described what occurred in the stock that occurred in the stock that practically led the downward movement, and the de- Merchants and Mechanics Savings. scription showed that while brokers who make a living by trading for their own account were very busy, they still observed a nice regard for correctness of Corroran expression.

As the stop orders were not uncoverauntil the price approximated 120, the un- Metropolitan britiated might suppose that the break was caused by something encountered when the stock sold a good deal higher up. But the traders knew better.

> From its high level at the beginning of the week the price had only sagged. It was when it neared 120 that it broke. having been made in the panic last March. That low record marked the point at which many speculative holders placed their stop orders, in the belief that if once the stock dropped to a lower level

WASHINGTON STOCK MARKET. PRICES FALL LOWER

The usual dullness of Saturday was in evidence yesterday on the Washington Stock Exchange. There was little business, and prices which have been in a habit of failing lately took another turn for the worse, closing low for the week in all the leaders. The business of the day was confined to 554 shares of stock, made up largely of the railways, Mersenthaler, and Mitchell Mining.

As on former days of this week, the sales were lots forced upon the market strongest of the year. Local cash sales 245,000 bushels; seaboard reported 30 loads worked for exbusiness of the year. Local cash sales 245,000 bushels; seaboard reported 30 loads worked for exbusiness of the year. Local cash sales 245,000 bushels; seaboard reported 30 loads worked for exbusiness. Willing frost in lowa and Indiana and heavy frost indicated for Kansas, Missouri, and the Ohio Valley, with the bulge in wheat, started a beam in come resulting in a net advance for the day of 24 cents. There was considerable investment buying, and shorts ran to cover near the close. It is believed that the freeze has caught and will damage much soft corn. The West bought freely here. Some of the local longs took profits, but these offerings were inadequate to stay the advance. Liverpool specific corn was ld lower. Anxious About Wall Street.

Yesterday there was a feeling of some anxiety with regard to the New York market. As the brokers came to their seats they had just been scanning the tickers and were in a nervous state as to their investments, and those of their investments, and those of their investments, and those of their investments and those of their investments. their investments and those of their clients. Many a one of them would like to know what the market will do Mon-

Tightness in money, which has been the constant cry in New York during the past week, is being felt slightly in Washington. It was stated yesterday that two or three of the banks had called in some of their large loans and some of those that had been running some time. This action was not due any appreciable scarcity of money, two. The result is that the entire list shows drastic losses, the finals being from ½ to 1½ per cent above the lowest. This rally was caused by some short covering influenced more or less by the bank statement which proved better than expected. For the immediate future of the market it seems to me that a sharp rally is due and should follow yesterday and to-day's and should follow yesterday and to-day's decline, but this can hardly come to pass unless the insiders extend sufficient port to start the shorts buying. I would Railways are hit hard hard for the year to-day, and closed 1% cents higher. As heretofore, the demand came up from the cash wheat, putting shorts into a panic and driving most of them to cover over Sunday. Offerings were not free and values therefore were quite responsive. There was some Northwest buying of fair importance, which served to increase the stringency. There was some selling by owners of upward indemnities and miscellaneous longs. Talk of possible removal of the import duty of 37% cents by Italy and of 34% cents duty by Austria-Hungary—the latter usually a good exporter—started the upward trend. The sale of two cargoes additional of cash red winter wheat also helped the market. The sales were at ½ cent better relative price, as compared to the futures, than hepstofore. Weather in the Northwest ic cold, indicating that sail plowing will soon cease, possibly increasing the shipping and marketing of wheat. Australia reported rains there, but the effect was only momentary. Liverpool was ½ to id lower for spot. ¼ higher for futures. Export houses claim all bids from abroad are strongest of the year. Local cash sales 245,000 bushels; seaboard reported 30 loads worked for export.
